Mr. Nasrollahi has proven that it is possible to reduce heating and cooling energy consumption by more than 50% solely by architectural design. His work is very precise and generates encouraging results. It is of high scientific value. His methods can be adapted to research in other climate zones.

Prof. Claus Steffan